

Transliteracies Project: Overview

• Year 1 (2005-2006)

- Inaugural all-hands conference
- Research Clearinghouse started

• Year 2 (2006-2007)

- Research Working Groups started
 - History of Reading Group
 - New Reading Interfaces Group

• Year 3 (2007-2008)

- Social Computing Group started (in collaboration with CITS, Communication, Computer Science, Bren, etc.)

• Year 4 (2008-2009)

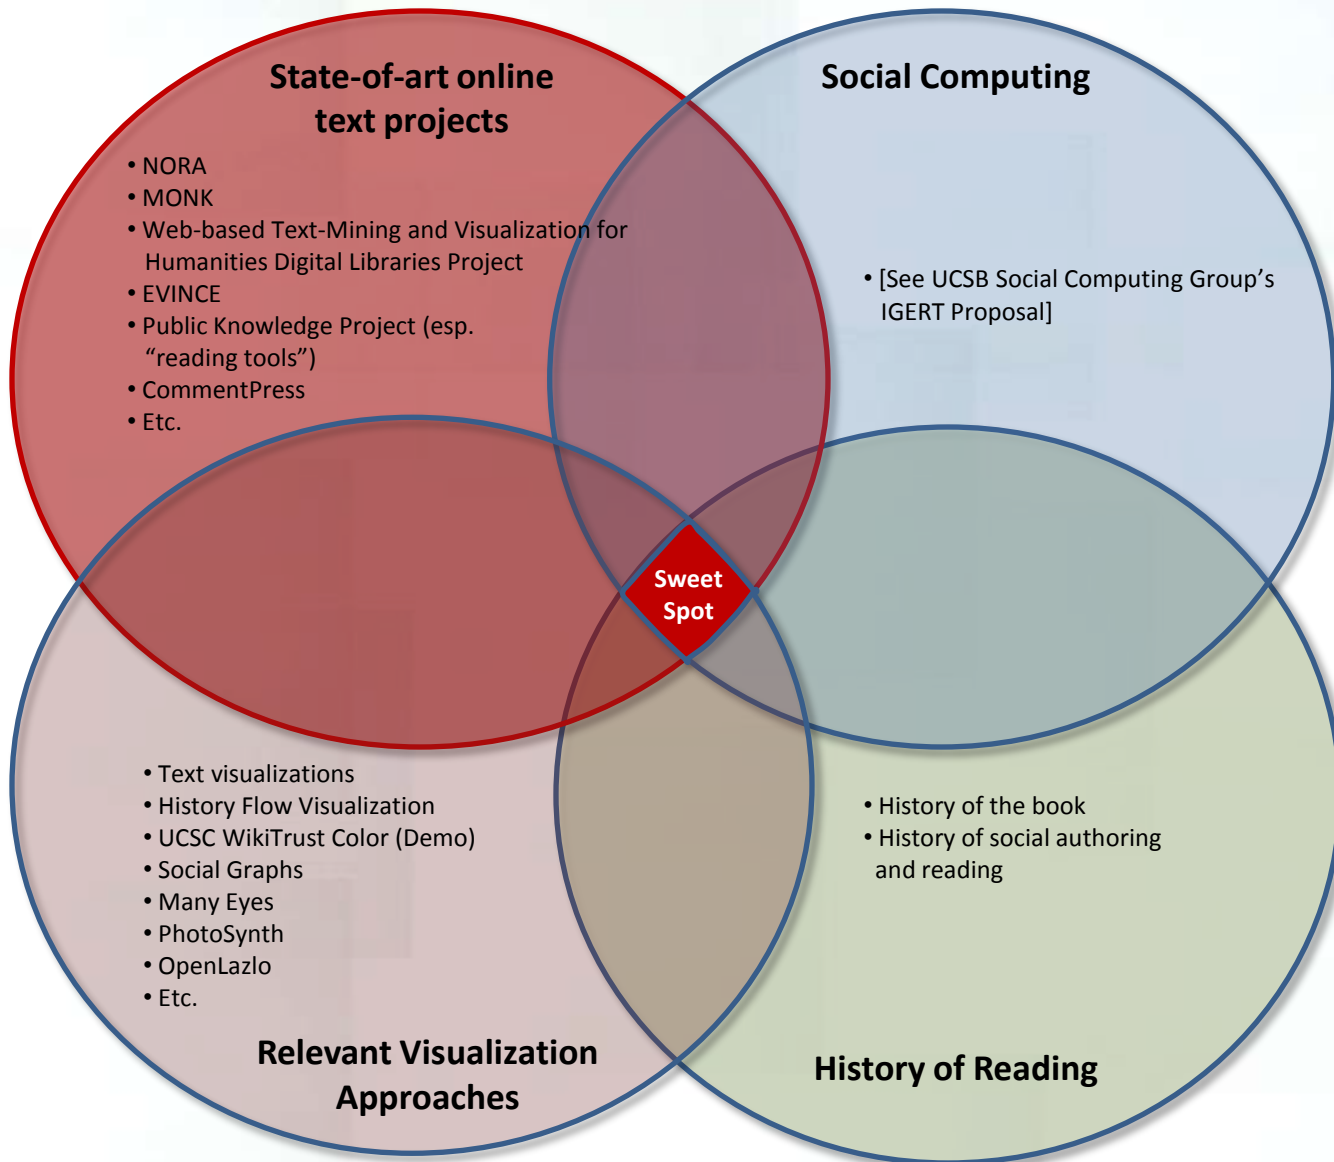

- White Papers from the three research working groups
- Initial technological & educational program development

• Year 5 (2009-2010 - terminal year)

- Summary White Paper → Extramural grant proposal(s)

Transliteracies Project: Current Idea Space

Transliteracies Project: Draft for Year 4 Plan [v 2.0]

Participation of Ray Siemen's HCI-Book/INKE group in Canada

Supervision/contributions by Transliteracies research groups (History of Reading, New Reading Interfaces, Social Computing) and Bluesky. (Also: involvement of faculty & grad students from other UC campuses and Ray Siemen's group in Canada)

Research reports / technical analyses of a chosen canon of state-of-art online text projects and related approaches:

Canon (example)

- NORA / MONK
- NINES Collex
- Web-based Text-Mining and Visualization for Humanities Digital Libraries Project
- Public Knowledge Project ("reading tools")
- History Flow Visualization
- WikiTrust Color Project
- CommentPress

Bluesky Research Blog (ed. Pablo Colapinto)

Social Computing Idea Contest:
Ideas, demos, scenarios, short stories by category—e.g.:

- SC and Scholarship
- SC and Online Reading
- SC and Social Action
- SC and Trust
- SC and Quality of Life

Social Computing Group IGERT Proposal

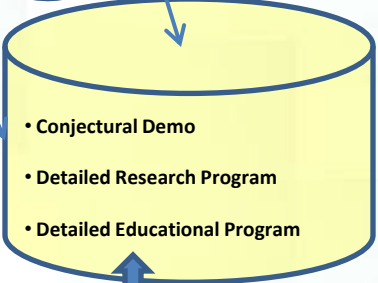

Workshops of Transliteracies research groups (c. Jan. 29-30, synched with UCSB workshop on Interactive Digital Multimedia):

- Individual research group workshop agendas
- But also common critique/brainstorming catalyzed by results of previous research reports and contest

Social Computing Group White Paper (written by Alan and Bluesky based on IGERT proposal)

History of Reading Group White Paper

New Reading Interfaces Group White Paper

Possible collaboration with Canadian HCI-Book/INKE

Possible collaboration with Web Science Research Initiative (liaison: Monica Bulger)

Transliterations Project: Toward a Demo

- Warning: this page is pink because it has a history of controversy that makes it [high] [medium] [low]-reliability information without considering its editing history.
 - Visual edit history profile.
-
- Key page authors:
 - Other Wikipedia articles in which authors have been active
 - Other Internet resources to which authors contribute
 - Works by, or citations of, key authors in print media
 - Page statistics

Transliteracies Project: Toward a Demo

Message from Mary S.

Here's an interesting reference to
Charles Brockden Brown's fever.

P.S. Go six bookcases back . . .

